Strategic Partnerships

Scholaride Consulting · Newcastle Consulting Society (NCS)

Partnering with aligned student organisations to strengthen recruitment pipelines, expand reach, and share best-practice delivery models

Student-Led Delivery at Scale

Blackmont mobilises high-performing student consultants to deliver structured analysis, clear recommendations, and measurable client outcomes—supported by disciplined delivery standards

Global Footprint, Local Execution

Our work spans the UK, Europe, and India, combining local market insight with consistent quality across branches and regional hubs

Sustained Talent Pipeline

Since 2020, we have recruited and developed >1131 students across delivery and internal functions—building a scalable platform for long-term growth

Blackmont Consulting: Competitive Advantage

Accessible Advisory Model

We provide high-quality consulting support through an accessible advisory model, enabling clients to validate strategic decisions, explore new opportunities, and solve complex challenges efficiently. This approach builds trust quickly and allows organisations to access structured thinking and execution support without the overhead of traditional consulting models.

Global Talent, Local Execution

Our teams operate across multiple regions and cultures, bringing diverse perspectives and strong market awareness. This enables us to work effectively across different industries, customer segments, and geographies—adapting to local nuance while maintaining a consistent delivery standard.

End-to-End Project Execution

Blackmont applies a disciplined delivery model with clear scoping, defined milestones, and quality assurance throughout each engagement. This ensures clients receive practical outputs, measurable progress, and stakeholder-ready recommendations that can be implemented immediately.

Long-Term Client Value

We prioritise long-term outcomes over one-off engagements by focusing on continuity, repeatable value, and sustained impact. Through clear follow-through and long-term support, we help organisations strengthen capabilities over time and deliver results beyond a single project.

Large Student-Led Talent Network

With a large and flexible talent network, we can mobilise teams quickly and support projects of varying scope and complexity. This enables faster turnaround, adaptable resourcing, and the ability to deliver across multiple workstreams simultaneously when required.

Branches at Blackmont: Departments

Owns client acquisition and project sourcing

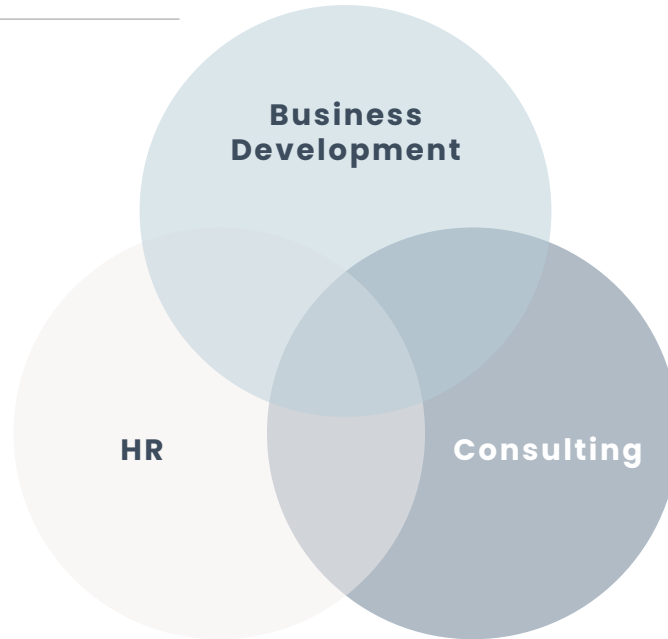

Business Development drives branch growth by sourcing new client projects across startups, SMEs, NGOs, and mission-led organisations. The team develops a high-quality pipeline, builds local partnerships, and supports regional expansion.

Interns typically contribute ~5 hours per week to qualify opportunities and support project acquisition.

Builds talent capacity and maintains standards

Human Resources builds and sustains branch capacity through recruitment, onboarding, and internal coordination. The team ensures the branch is staffed with the right talent to support delivery and wider operations.

Interns typically contribute ~4–5 hours per week to maintain consistency, performance, and scalability.

Delivers project outcomes and client value

Consulting delivers client engagements through research-driven analysis, structured problem-solving, and actionable recommendations. Projects typically run for 8 weeks, supported by a Project Manager to ensure quality and cadence.

Interns typically contribute ~10–12 hours per week to support delivery and client outcomes.

03.2

Open a Branch: Key Benefits

01 Leadership & Ownership

Starting a branch gives you end-to-end ownership of building and leading a team. You will shape strategy, execution, and local delivery—developing stronger decision-making, accountability, and leadership capability through real operational responsibility.

02 Stakeholder Network

Opening a branch expands your exposure to local clients, partners, and stakeholders. These relationships strengthen professional credibility and create long-term opportunities for collaboration, referrals, and career growth.

03 Career Acceleration

Branch leadership demonstrates strategic thinking, initiative, and the ability to deliver outcomes through others. This experience strengthens your profile for internships, graduate roles, and leadership pathways across consulting, startups, and corporate environments.

04 Broad Skill Development

Running a branch builds capability across recruitment, team management, operations, marketing, and delivery oversight. This strengthens versatility and prepares you to operate effectively in fast-moving and complex environments.

05 Visibility & Impact

Branch leadership increases your visibility within Blackmont and positions you as a contributor to the firm's growth. High-performing branch leads gain access to senior support, broader initiatives, and future executive-level opportunities.
